

Guiding Thoughts on your use of AI

- AI is changing what we can do. Who we become is still our choice.
- The route by which we arrive somewhere can shape us, and that shaping may itself be part of what matters.
- A technology that alters how we think, judge, attend or feel may leave us diminished even when it improves performance.